Invading Soldiers Are Ordered to Kill Trespassers

BERLIN—(United Press)—Radical labor disturbances have broken out at Muenchen-Gladbach and Rheidt; the government was informed today.

Laborers' council, similar to the Russian soviet, has been formed.

DUESSELDORF—(Associated Press)—Reports from the Wupper valley where the French have occupied several textile towns, indicate that the temper of the civilian population is uncertain. At Elberfeld, which is surrounded by a troop cordon, the people are highly excited, altho the city itself is not occupied. Agents of the "committee for defense and reprisals in the Ruhr" are said to be operating among the citizens.

That the French are prepared to take drastic measures to prevent sabotage is evident from the order notifying the Ruhr Germans that all persons found damaging railroad property will be sentenced to death.

Soldiers guarding the lines have been instructed to shoot to kill whenever trespassers fail to halt upon challenge.

Extension of the Sarre valley miners' strike into Lorraine is reported in advices from Metz, where coal production through the Ruhr is said to be only 10 per cent of normal.

OCCUPATION EXTENDED

BERLIN—(United Press)—French troops in newly occupied territory continued their advance at dawn, extending the occupation in the direction of Elberfeld. Reports from Essen indicate the French plan to strengthen the garrison there with a new battalion. Offenburger dispatches said excitement was increasing, that the invaders had directed artillery against that city and were requisitioning everything they required as the under wartime conditions.

A general strike of German workers is threatened, as a reprisal with communists favoring separate action.

Government reports indicate a growing belief France intends to make one great militarized zone of the right bank of the Rhine and seize not only coal and coke but all by-products, including dyas.

LIST OF MOVIE COLONY DRUG ADDICTS SECURED

WASHINGTON—A list of alleged drug addicts in the Hollywood movie colony and detailed information as to their source of supply has been received here by Colonel L. G. Nutt, chief of federal narcotic forces from his agents in Southern California.

The list was compiled with the assistance of the principal movie companies in Hollywood, it is said.

The narcotic situation generally is improving at Hollywood with the cooperation of the Famous Players-Lasky studio, Thomas Ince Corporation, the Fairbanks-Bickford studio and the chamber of commerce there, Nutt's agents informed him.

No more "parties" are being staged, their report stated. It declared the biggest dope peddler operating in that region, known as "the Hollywood Wop" has been apprehended and was held under $5,000 bond.

WELLS MARITAL AFFAIRS AGAIN BEFORE COURT

WARREN, Ohio—The marital affairs of Thomas H. Wells, "millionaire sergeant," were again before the courts today with the filing of a petition here by Stasia Wells, his former wife, asking that the court set aside the divorce granted to Wells in 1921.

The petition charges that Wells, when he testified in the divorce case, denied that he had kept Marion Pervle in a New York apartment and that he intended to marry her, was giving testimony "known by the said Thomas Wells to have been absolutely false."

The petition further points out that Wells married Marion Pervle eight days after the divorce was granted.

After this second marriage, the court of appeals set aside the divorce, but the supreme court restored the original decree, which held Stasia Wells guilty of misconduct and allowed her $300 a month alimony.

SOCIETY BUDS VOLUNTEER IN NURSES' ROLE

Who says society girls lead useless lives?

Here's proof that they don't. Acting as volunteer nurse at the Prospect Hill Shelter Home in New York is Margaret Starr, prominent in social circles.

The shelter home, the city's only refuge for well children, is supported by the Junior League, an organization of young women well known in society.

And these girls keep down expenses by doing duty themselves as nurses.

Last year 334 babies of sick mothers in hospitals were cared for by daughters of New York's "first families."

OHIO GIRL ENDS LIFE AT SCHOOL

Mystery Surrounds Suicide at Barnard College

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—An autopsy will be performed today on the body of Miss Marie Bloomfield, of Columbus, Ohio, honor student at Barnard College, who committed suicide in Brook Hall, a girls' dormitory last night.

The contents of a half filled glass, which stood on table near the girl's bed, also will be analyzed.

Miss Bloomfield left an open letter addressed to Mrs. Bruce Frederick Cummings, London, England, and a note requesting that the letter be mailed.

In a letter Miss Bloomfield expressed pleasure at having received a letter from Mrs. Cummings, who, apparently she had never met.

"It has been wonderful," she wrote, "to have you write to me, because I have known you so long in Barbellon's Journals."

Barbellon referred to, is the late Bruce Frederick Cummings, English artist and scientist, who wrote under the pen name of W. N. P. Barbellon. Among his works were "The Journal of a Disappointed Man" and "A Last Diary," the latter being the author's impressions during what he expected would be his last two years alive.

Nearly also was found in Miss Bloomfield's handwriting a copy of Keats' "Ode to a Nightingale," and at the foot of the bed were several volumes of modern poetry.

The body probably will be forwarded to the home of Miss Bloomfield's brother, Professor Leonard Bloomfield, of the faculty of Ohio State university at Columbus. Her parents are dead.

FLIGHT RECORD ATTEMPT MAY AGAIN BE POSTPONED

DAYTON—Lieutenants John A. MacReady and Oakley Kelly, McCook Field pilots who were expected to take the air this afternoon in an attempt to break the world's record for sustained flight, were doubtful this morning as to whether they would make the attempt today.

Weather forecast of probable snow storms for tonight and rain tomorrow will likely cause further postponement of the flight.

The aviators will take the T-2 for a few hours' flight this morning to correct carburetor adjustments and get the machine in order. Stop watches to be used in the flight were received yesterday from Washington and everything is in readiness for the flight, weather permitting.

ACTION ON SUBSIDY BILL MAY BE FORCED

WASHINGTON—An administration drive in the senate to enforce the division on the ship subsidy bill depended by President Harding was decided on today by leaders as the house ways and means committee took up the bill approving the British debt settlement.

Mr. Harding's unexpected coupling of the debt funding and the subsidy bill in his message yesterday left congressional leaders somewhat disconcerted, with their carefully arranged plan for quickly disposing of the debt legislation thrown askew.

A quick effort was made to get together on a new plan that would meet the president's wishes and not endanger passage of the debt legislation by March 3, when the present congress expires.

Foreign Born Women Studying Question of Finances

SAVANNAH Ga.—(Associated Press)—Some 400 soldiers who returned to America yesterday aboard the transport St. Mihiel from the Rhine and the families of 24 of the men were resting today at Port Screven after a hectic day here, during which they paraded, feasted and danced.

Their buddies, with whom they represented the United States at Coblenz as the army of occupation, were enroute today to Charleston.

Approximately 300 soldiers will be unloaded there late this afternoon.

The wives were becoming acquainted with the poignant truth that a dollar is just a dollar and that the soldier in the ranks is paid but thirty of them each month.

While some of the women dismissed as an annoying bugaboo the matter of rate of exchange in Germany, others appeared to regard the money question as having direct bearing on their future happiness.

The latter recited that when an American goes to a motion picture theatre he spends as much for a ticket as a German pays a servant for a month's work.

SPEAK LITTLE ENGLISH

The matter of studiously considering the English language is an important topic. The majority of the German wives speak but little English.

Savannah settled down today to quietude after what was said to have been the greatest celebration of a patriotic nature ever staged here.

The St. Mihiel docked here at 2:40 and the Rhine soldiers were greeted by an immense throng, representing virtually every section of the country.

Some of the soldiers had been from America five years.

Interest was divided between the returning doughboys and their foreign born wives.

In all there were 65 German wives, four French and two Belgian, with 24 children. Some wives were left behind to be brought to America later.

BODY RECOVERED FROM ICE

Frozen Remains of Man Found Near Dunkirk

CLEVELAND—(United Press)—With head up and arms outstretched in a swimming position, a man's body believed to be one of the crew of the missing tug Cornell was found frozen in the ice near Dunkirk last Wednesday.

A police party which went to the spot when the body was found, built a fire, thawed out part of the ice, and with axes chopped the body loose.

Frozen solid in its transparent shroud, the body was taken to Dunkirk police headquarters where the ice was melted from it.

The body appeared in a life preserver, in that of a man about 33, clad in a suit of overalls, and wearing a small mustache.

A slip of paper in one pocket bore the words:

"Captain Philip Broderick, Great Lakes Towing Company, Cleveland, Ohio."

Broderick is local manager of the towing company, former owner of the tug Cornell.

Cleveland officials of the company believed Thursday that it might be the body of Captain Edward Kemmet, Cleveland, commander of the tug.

The mystery of the Cornell, which vanished somewhere in Lake Erie in December was never solved.

MAN IS TRIED FOR CRIME COMMITTED 42 YEARS AGO

LUMBERTON, N. C.—Joseph B. Kemp was found not guilty yesterday of the murder of Daniel E. McNeill on August 15, 1878, after the jury had deliberated 29 minutes.

Kemp's plea was self-defense.

The state presented as one of its witnesses Malcolm McNeill, a brother of the slain man, who testified that he was present at the time of the killing forty-four years ago and that it was the result of an argument between his brother and Kemp.

Kemp was apprehended and returned to this state from St. Augustine, Fla., after a chance conversation had revealed his identity.

TAFT TAX BILL IS GIVEN O. K.

Recommended for Passage by Ohio Legislative Committee

RATES FOR CITIES 17 MILLS

County Fixed at 14—Provides for Budget Commission

COLUMBUS—(Associated Press)—The taxation committee of the house of representatives today recommended for passage the Taft tax bill which is designed to furnish a method of permanent relief for all taxing districts.

While the measure deals with many taxation problems, its salient features are that it establishes a maximum tax rate in cities of 17 mills in counties of 14 mills and provides for election of a non-partisan budget commission. Interior limitations within the maximum limitations are expected to provide sufficient funds for all governmental departments of a city or county to properly function.

The maximum limitations however do not signify that the tax rates in cities or counties shall not be in excess of them, as all interest and sinking fund charges now outside present limitations are permitted to remain outside and all new interest and sinking fund charges shall also be outside these limitations.

While the non-partisan budget commission is mandatory counties may vote to return to present system which makes the county auditor, treasurer and prosecuting attorney the budget commissioner.

MINIMUM WAGES

A resolution providing for investigation by a joint legislative committee of the entire minimum wage situation today had taken the place of the bill of Senator Burke, Republican, of Elvira, before the general assembly.

The senate labor committee late yesterday voted to postpone indefinitely consideration of the Burke bill and instead the resolution of Senator Burke, Republican, of Summit-co, providing for a general survey of the minimum wage situation.

Virtual killing of the Burke bill which would have provided for establishment of a commission to determine minimum wages in various industries was accomplished in the face of strong protest by its author, Senator Burke, who had the support of Senator Bender of Cuyahoga-co, and Senator Adair, Democrat, of Wayne, another member of the committee, charged that substitution of the Burke resolution was "camouflage" and merely a step to kill the minimum wage issue during the present session.

WANT MORE INFORMATION

Senator Burke and Senators McCoy of Mahoning, Wenger of Ashland, and Longhead of Hamilton, committee members who were with Senator Burke, said they expected to discuss the proposal when it comes up on the floor.

Both houses of the legislature convened at 1 a. m. today and will adjourn over the week-end and probably this afternoon.

WIDOWERS' RIGHTS

COLUMBUS—(United Press)—Widowers are given equal rights with widows in selecting property they want when estates are sold by executors or administrators, by a proposed law ready for signature of Governor Donahue today.

The bill was introduced by Senator Atwood, of Franklin, and went thru both houses without any votes against it.

Other bills passed by the house were:

Providing fines for drivers of vehicles for transportation of school children, who fail to stop before crossing railroad crossings.

Legislation relating to minors who enlisted in Ohio for world war service regardless of residence of parent or guardian. This is to prevent payment of adjusted compensation.

AUTOIST BILL OFFERED

Carless or intoxicated automobile drivers convicted of manslaughter could be sentenced to jail or workhouse or released with a fine and suspension of their right to drive under provisions of a bill introduced in the senate today by Senator Collier, of Cleveland.

The bill provides that a jury in such cases might return a verdict of manslaughter with recommendation for mercy and that under such circumstances the trial judge could make the penalty a fine not to exceed $2,000 or imprisonment in jail or workhouse not more than ten months or both.

Right of such convicted persons to drive automobiles would be suspended for from one to two years, and in case of violation of such suspension the trial judge would be empowered to set aside the mercy recommendation and remand the convicted person to the penitentiary.

Penalty in such cases, under the present law is penitentiary sentence to one to 20 years.

Wife Authorized By Court Order To Spank Mate

DETROIT—(Associated Press)—Joseph Leszynski, 33, will behave for the next year, if spankings and the continued presence in his home of a probation officer have the proper effect.

Mrs. Gladys Leszynski, his wife, proved to Judge Thomas Cotter yesterday that she was capable of spanking him—had been doing it for a long time—and was instructed by the court to administer the punishment whenever she believed it necessary.

She then was made a special probation officer for the period of a year, to see that her husband came home at a reasonable hour.

"He'll get a spanking tonight, if you say so, I'll spank him every day," Mrs. Leszynski told the judge.

The court made no plea for mercy.

FIGHT IS RESUMED

Contention for Joseph Wooley Estate in Appeals Court

What may be the final round in a battle for the $75,000 Joseph Wooley estate began in appeals court Thursday.

Maude Michael, of 819 W. Market-st, housekeeper for Wooley, is fighting heirs at law who claim the estate on grounds of blood relation.

Miss Michael has been awarded two verdicts in the lower courts. By the decision of one jury she obtained a Cadillac limousine and house furniture. The house and other real estate property awarded in by another verdict.

Heirs headed by Mrs. Helen R. Newbold, of Little Rock, Arkansas, are prosecuting the case on error.

Both will be reviewed and argued simultaneously before the court.

FREE BREAD SUPPLIED TO CHICAGO CUSTOMERS

CHICAGO—Chicago customers of the 28 chain stores of one firm were assured of a greater supply of "free bread" today than yesterday when the entire product quickly was exhausted under the onslaught of patrons, mostly school children. But today the bread produced by extra shifts of bakers was to go only with minimum purchases of fifty cents' worth of groceries.

Another group of chain stores, with which a price-cutting war was engaged in, continued to sell the 16-ounce loaf for three and a half cents and announced there would be no immediate change of policy.

The manager of the first group said the great crowds which besieged the stores forced the stipulation of purchases before receipt of free bread. He said 150,000 loaves would be given away today.

TURK CLASH SEEN AS INEVITABLE

More British Ships Are Ordered to Smyrna

DEFENSE ACTION IS TAKEN

Situation Critical as Result of Angora Ultimatum

PARIS—(Associated Press)—The French press attacks the greatest importance to the Smyrna situation, regarding it to be so delicate as to render the declaration of war inevitable unless the Turks recede their position in demanding the withdrawal of allied warships. It is pointed out that there are probably ten large naval units at Smyrna. These include the French cruiser Ernest Renan, at least two British craft and one representative each of the Italian, Dutch and American navies. In addition there is a flotilla of light craft.

The Turkish government, LeMae (in says in informing the high commissioners at Constantinople of its decision to demand the departure of the ships, justified its position by saying that British warships could land troops at Smyrna with a view to taking in the rear the Turkish army in Asia Minor.

The commissioners replied that the warships would remain where they are. To this, LeMae continued the Turkish authorities announced that they would compel the craft to depart unless they went of their own free will.

The British and French commanders then received orders to reply to any attack. If such an incident arises, the newspapers assert, no French however anxious to preserve peace, would be able to limit its effect.

MORE SHIPS SENT

LONDON—Orders to the French and British war craft at Smyrna to defend themselves if attacked by the Turks, is the answer of the Paris and London government to the Turkish ultimatum demanding the withdrawal of the vessels.

Press dispatches from Constantinople assert that the British have gone a step further, ordering the diversion to Smyrna of other ships of the Mediterranean fleet.

Reuter's Constantinople correspondent reported this morning that all was quiet in Smyrna.

Reuter's Constantinople, aboard the light cruiser Guirao, standing off Mytilene, has been ordered to enter Smyrna harbor today to support, if necessary, the cruiser Calypso.

TIME EXTENDED

CONSTANTINOPLE—(Associated Press)—The governor of Smyrna is reported to have informed the French command that he has extended by 24 hours the time within which the allied warships must leave Smyrna harbor. The governor is said to have decided upon the postponement in order that he may receive instructions from the Angora government.

FRENCH CABINET MEETS

PARIS—(Associated Press)—The Turkish order that the allied warships must leave Smyrna was discussed at a meeting of the French cabinet today. The French government is exchanging views with London and Rome regarding the procedure to be followed in the efforts to reach a state of peace in the Near East.

Until further developments it is understood in French official circles that the Lausanne conference would still be regarded as finally terminated only when the general secretary gives notification to that effect. The hope is that the negotiations will be resumed as soon as Ismet Pasha returns from Angora.

It is estimated that all the allied ships are remaining at Smyrna. These include the French cruiser Ernest Renan, the French destroyer Souall, the British cruiser Cambrian, the Italian cruiser Venetia, the Dutch warship Admiral Tromp and four American destroyers.

French police informed the cabinet that the Vail of Smyrna had explained the order that the allied ships leave by the fact that Turkey feared resumption of hostilities by the Greeks and wanted to be free to take such measures of protection in the port of Smyrna as circumstances seemed to warrant.

The French government remains in full accord with the British to resist any effort by the Turks to profit from the breakup at Lausanne and free themselves from the measures of protection taken by the allies.

The policy of the allies at present with reference to the Near East negotiations is to wait for an indication of how the Turks, after reflection, feel regarding the terms proposed at Lausanne. Meanwhile the French, the British and the Italians will remain united in opposition to any tendency by the Turks to shake off such allied control as is necessary to assure the protection of the civilian population.

NEW FEDERAL BUILDING SEEN

Objections of Foes of the Measure
Overcome

If President Warren G. Harding approves the measure providing for the establishment of a district federal court in Lima, it is assured that success will have attended the effort made by Congressman John L. Cable of the Fourth Ohio district for a new court in this city.

The lower house of congress Thursday agreed to the senate amendments to the original bill, introduced by Cable, providing for sessions of the federal court in Lima. The measure now goes to the president.

With a new United States court located in Lima, it is believed that steps will be taken at once to rush thru the necessary legislation providing for a new federal building in this city, due to the fact that the present postoffice quarters are overcrowded and that chambers for the new court must be provided.

ONE CHANGE MADE
The senate passed Cable's bill in its original form, save that a change was made providing for the holding of district court here in September, if it is found necessary by the judges to do so.

Postmaster A. E. Gale was very much pleased over announcement of the final passage of the measure, as it is believed that relief will soon be forthcoming in the matter of more postoffice floor space, which is badly needed, the postoffice head declares.

Cable's measure won out over the protest of Judge J. J. Killits, of United States court, Toledo, who attacked the plan on the ground that it was an unnecessary.

In a letter to Senator Knute Nelson, chairman of the senate judiciary committee, Judge Killits charged that members of the judiciary committee had failed to inquire fully into the facts in the premises before reporting the bill out.

Congressman Cable replied to Judge Killits' objections before the senate committee and the bill was later reported out.

T. B. SEVITZ, CLERK OF
MARION-TP, IS VICTIM OF DEATH AT DELPHOS

Thomas B. Seviz, 76, clerk of Marion-tp, died Wednesday at 6 p. m. at the home of his son, C. E. Seviz, 803 E. Third-st., after an illness of one month from jaundice.

He leaves three children: James A. Seviz, La Junta, Colorado; Mrs. Dan J. Gasson, Gadsden, Alabama; and C. E. Seviz, Delphos. A brother, Charles Seviz, resides in Lima. One sister preceded him in death. He was married twice, his first wife, Lucy Jane Fisher Seviz, having died about 17 years ago. His second wife, Mrs. Helen Baker Seviz, died three years ago.

Seviz was born in Perry-co in 1847 and made his home in Delphos for about 35 years. He was formerly engaged in the laundry and elevator business and was a previous term as clerk of Marion-tp. He was reared to manhood in Lafayette.

He was prominently identified with the local I. O. O. F., having filled practically all chairs of that lodge. Other fraternal affiliations were with the Masonic order, Rebekahs and the Canton of Lima. He was a member of the Lutheran church.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 2 p. m. at the C. E. Seviz home. Interment in West Side cemetery. Word was received Wednesday night that his son, James A. Seviz, may be able to attend, owing to illness of himself and wife.

CHANGING GEOGRAPHY
FUSSES UP TEACHERS

A test concerning the present geography of Europe proved a "stumper" for Delphos public school teachers at a meeting Wednesday night. It was given by Superintendent H. R. Hick and proved an intricate problem because of declarations of independence by many of the heretofore dependent states.

The test was presented in the form of a map. Each country was numbered and teachers strove to tell what each stands for.

One teacher declared it is as difficult as figuring out a Chinese puzzle. The test proved that map makers have a heavy job on hand.

The same test was given members of the high school Thursday by Superintendent Hick.

MORE SNOW IS ON THE "MENU"

Early on Thursday, Ted was keenly anxious concerning the possibility of his sidewalk being covered with snow to a depth sufficient to require an operation with a snow shovel as the instrument. However, Wednesday's snowfall had not received an addition during the night.

Prospects for more snow were piling up Thursday, according to announcement of the current forecast. Cloudy to night and Friday with probable local snow near Lake Erie. Colder Friday and in northwest portion tonight.

Just an average winter forecast. Nothing unusual about it, as most anyone will agree. However, bright sunshine at least part of the way during Thursday carried ample compensation in advance for the prospect of tonight and Friday that is not altogether inviting.

But be of good cheer. Weather forecasts do not always become an actuality. So, if you don't like the menu, just forget it. You can't change it. What can't be cured must be endured. That is the saying of ages. Ages ago, and holds good in this day even as it did then.

Most folks are optimists about weather conditions. They are content to accept what is offered, without grumbling. But the pessimist continues to be unhappy.

HOUSE OF DAVID
MAY BE AIREDCourt Action Threatens to Expose
Secret Rites

PAW PAW, Mich.—(United Press)—Secret rites of the "House of David" of Benton Harbor, Mich., are threatened with exposure by court action.

On February 18, Judge Robert Dea Volzquez will rule on a motion to prevent the questioning of "King" Benjamin Purnell in a suit for $300,000 damages brought by two of his stit followers.

The suit, filed by Ruth Bamford Reed, 17, and Gladys Bamford Rubel, 19, charge Purnell with immoral practices carried on under the cloak of religion.

Purnell in 1904 went to Australia and persuaded George Bamford and his wife and daughter Gladys to join the sect at Benton Harbor, according to the petition. Bamford later died but a second, Ruth was born to his wife.

Ruth, in an affidavit, declared she was subject to the will of King Benjamin from her birth. She declared she was ten years old when she first received the "call" to appear alone at the house of the king. From that day until 1920, she was forced to do the bidding of Purnell, she said.

At 15, she was ordered to marry Robert P. Reed, but managed to put off the wedding two years. The couple were sent to Johnstown Pa., in a penniless condition, she charged.

HOOPER'S DENIAL INTENSE PAIN IN NOT ACCEPTED THE STOMACH

Believed Texas Man is Missing
Heir to Lima Fortune

KLINGER AWAITS PICTURES

Search Thought Near End for $25,000 Beneficiary

Nation wide search for Isaac Mayberry Hooper, 62, heir to $25,000, is almost ended.

Such is the opinion expressed Thursday by Clarence H. Klinger, attorney, who has been combing the country from Maine to California in an effort to locate the heir of Lucy Hooper, school teacher, 502 W. High-st., who died three years ago.

Klinger is of the opinion that James Hooper, vegetable vendor of Wichita Falls, Texas, and Isaac Hooper are the same man.

Hooper, however, has written denying this. His letter states that he is sometimes called Jack Hooper. The latter says he came from Georgia.

TERMED ECCENTRIC
Previously Klinger received letters from Carlbad, New Mexico, describing Hooper, who had left there. The mayor of the city described him as very eccentric and a man not likely to accept a legacy.

Pictures of the Wichita Falls man, which Klinger expects to receive soon, are counted on to definitely establish his identity.

Hooper disappeared from Lima 25 years ago, after having been nursed thru a long serious illness by his sister Lucy.

By saving part of her earnings over a long period of years, depositing it in a local savings institution, and with a fortunate investment in W. High-st. real estate, Miss Hooper built up the fortune waiting for the missing heir.

VAN HORN FUNERAL TO TAKE PLACE FRIDAY

Funeral services for Andrew Van Horn, 91, who died Wednesday at his home in Kalamazoo, Mich., will be held Friday at 10 a. m. from the Jefferson Street Mission church here.

Interment in Woodlawn cemetery. He resided in Lima for more than 40 years, moving to Kalamazoo 15 years ago. The body was brought to the home of his son, Frank Van Horn, O'Connor and McKinley-sts.

In addition to this son, two other sons, Arthur Van Horn, of Jackson, and Walter Van Horn, of Sioux Falls, S. Dakota, are left. Also four daughters, Mrs. Myrtle Smith, Columbus; Mrs. Minnie Parson, Covington, Ky.; Mrs. Ivy Brantner, Columbus; Mrs. W. W. Winter, Chicago, survive.

WIFE CHARGES ASSAULT IN SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Pugilistic tactics alleged to have been adopted by William Short, caused Mrs. Tennessee Short, 794 S. Elizabeth-st., to seek relief.

Charges that Short had struck her in the eye, blackening the optic, were incorporated in a divorce petition filed in common pleas court Thursday.

Included in the petition was a request that a restraining order be allowed, enjoining Short from molesting or annoying her in the custody of Robert Short, her son.

An additional charge made is that Short has a penchant for strong drink and squandered his money buying it. The Short's were married in Rockwood, Tenn., in 1910.

NEGRO FOUND GUILTY; SENTENCE IS DEFERRED

Paul Cumberland, 47, negro 373 S. Central-st., was found guilty in criminal court late Wednesday of possession of illicit liquor. Cumberland was arrested a week ago during a police raid when, it is said, approximately five quarts of liquor were seized.

Cumberland will not be sentenced until next week. He was released on $1,000 bond pending an appeal for a new trial.

MOTHER! MOVE CHILD'S BOWELS

"California Fig Syrup" is Child's Best Laxative

Even if cross, feverish, bilious, constipated or full of cold, children love the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." A teaspoon never fails to clean the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the souring food and nasty bile out of the stomach and bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggists for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Adv.

A Lima Man Says the Plant
Juice Did Remarkable
Work in His Case

RELIEVED STOMACH MISERY

"I can heartily recommend your Plant Juice medicine to anybody who suffers from stomach or kidney trouble because it surely relieved me," said Mr. A. R. Thompson, of Bellefontaine avenue, Lima, well known resident of this city.

MR. A. R. THOMPSON

Mr. Thompson made this statement while talking with The Plant Juice Man recently at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, and continuing, he said:

"I had suffered for three years from intense pain in my stomach and could eat only the lightest foods. I felt tired out and run down all the time and had pains all over my body and soreness in my side. I kept falling off in weight all the time, was very nervous and could not sleep right and my kidneys were in bad condition."

"I tried so many different medicines without relief that I thought that nothing would ever do me any good but finally I started to take your Plant Juice medicine and the results are remarkable. I have gained 15 pounds, can eat anything I want and my stomach is almost free of the soreness. My kidneys are in good condition now and I sleep just fine. I do not get tired out anymore and feel like doing my work and I can't say enough for your Plant Juice. I think its action upon the entire system is wonderful and I heartily recommend it."

The Plant Juice Man is at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

Plant Juice is sold also in Lima at Hunter's drug store at Main and Wayne streets and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office.

SELLING COAL ON INSTALLMENTS

Entire Eastern City Gets Winter's Supply in April

BANK ASSISTING BUYERS

Homeowner Has Winter's Fuel Paid for in October

(BY EDWARD THIERRY)

PORT WASHINGTON, L. I. — (Special) — A dollar and a half down and a dollar and a half a month for ten months buys your coal, per ton, on the installment plan—if you live in Port Washington.

Alexander Stern conceived the idea. The Port Washington Taxpayers Association put it into practice. The Port Washington National Bank did the financing. And 260 members of the association are going to listen to the music of the chime as their next winter's coal supply rattles into 260 cellars next April.

"Other towns are welcome to the idea; it isn't copyrighted," said Stern, who is chairman of the Taxpayers' Coal Committee. "I think it will help to solve our annual coal problem. It means we get cheaper coal—and certain coal."

"The whole trouble has been that most people won't buy it in the spring and summer when it is plentiful and cheap, but persist in buying in the winter when it is dear and hard to get. Perhaps because we live in a hand-to-mouth age of living, and everyone finds it convenient to buy a whole winter's supply at once."

"We solved that by getting a bank to carry our notes. We order our coal in January, paying an initial payment of 10 per cent of the estimated cost plus $1 a ton for the reserve fund. This gives the bank order for $105. At $14 a ton, plus $1 per ton reserve, made a total order of $150."

"The buyer pays $15 to the bank in January, likewise in February and March. His 10 tons of coal will be delivered in April. Then, with $40 on deposit, he gives the bank his note for $105. This he pays off in monthly installments of $15, and in October, having paid a few dollars interest, he has his winter's supply of coal in the cellar—paid for."

The coal, says Stern, comes in carload lots direct from the mines. The reserve fund is to pay incidental expenses of the coal committee and protect the bank against bad debt, and the unused balance will be distributed pro rata to the coal subscribers.

What the local retail dealer thinks of this idea has nothing to do with this story.

IOWA'S RESERVE ARMY TO HUNT BOOTLEGGERS

DES MOINES, Ia. — A reserve army of 200 deputies, ready for instant duty in their respective townships, will go far toward solving the difficulties which vicious roadhouses, bootleggers and speeders have caused Polk county authorities.

That is the belief of Sheriff Park Findley, successor to Winfred E. Robb, the fighting parson, who went out of office Jan. 2 in the middle of a legal squabble over "who got the county's booze."

Under the system which Sheriff Findley has instituted, at the suggestion of County Attorney Vernon Seeburger, every township has a "captain" who was sworn in as a deputy and given permission to carry a gun.

The captain with other deputies under him, has authority to inspect roadhouses, hunt bootleggers and chase speed maniacs. He is empowered to make arrests.

The plan was recently laid before the leading men from the townships and received their support. Prominent men in each township were chosen as captains and made responsible to the sheriff for the men under them.

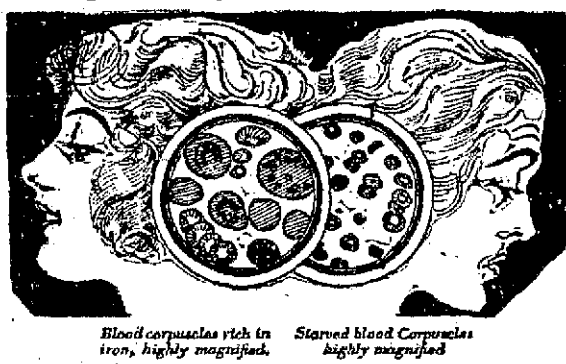

INSPECTORS MEET APRIL 9 TOLEDO — The ninth annual convention of the National Building Inspectors' Association will be held here April 9-12. Jacob Hesser, city building inspector, is in charge of local arrangement. Delegates from all sections of the United States and Canada and representatives of the government are expected to attend.

ROBBERY OF AUTO, CASH CLEVELAND — Two masked gunmen robbed Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bach of their automobile and $3,000 in jewelry and cash as they opened the door of their garage to put their automobile away.

PLANT SETS RECORD TIFTON — Two million five hundred thousand washboards were turned out by the Monarch Manufacturing Company, said to be the largest manufacturers of washboards in the world.

Let this trial offer prove for you at our expense whether more Iron in your blood will make you well and strong Physician tells why you must have Iron to give you Health, Strength, Energy and Endurance.

"Lack of iron in your blood produces the most terrible of all debilitating weaknesses and makes a man or woman a physical wreck, nervous, irritable and easily tired out," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly Physician at Bellevue Hospital (Out-door Dept.) and the Westchester County Hospital. "It is iron in your blood that takes up oxygen from your lungs. The food you eat contains carbon. As digested food is absorbed into the blood, the carbon in the food unites with the oxygenated iron in your blood, and by so doing gives off energy, thereby giving you great force, physical and mental vigor, and producing the material which becomes active living cells, flesh, muscle, bone and tissue, thus performing one of the most remarkable miracles of life. Without iron, even three big meals a day will not do you any good—you do not get any strength out of your food—it is like putting coal into a stove without a fire."

"OBEY YOUR MOTHER!"

THERE'S a world of meaning in that injunction, if youth would only heed. But, unfortunately, too often they do not.

There is at this very moment a young boy occupying a cell in the county jail, awaiting trial on a charge of burglary, who ascribes his downfall to his failure to listen when his mother pleaded with him to give up liquor and bad companions, both male and female.

After it was too late and he faced the stern reality of atonement for the transgression of the law in a serious manner, this youth requested Sheriff Crosson to send a newspaper reporter to him. One of these keen judges of human nature called on the boy. He found a very repentant youth. Scalding tears coursed down his face as he implored the newsman to publish his appeal to boys and girls.

"Stay at home nights and obey your mother" is his message. "Too late have I realized that my life was steered in the wrong course, despite the tears and pleadings of my good mother, who is now the only friend I have."

In the heyday of recklessness, friends were numerous. So long as money was plentiful and he was termed a "good fellow," there were many to fawn on him. Now that he is penniless, his ill gotten gains gone and he faces trial for burglary, the quondam friends are conspicuous by their absence.

Only his mother has not failed him. She resides in Sidney, but makes regular trips to this city, to endeavor to cheer her wayward son, now repentant and quite ready to steer a different course on the sea of life. However, atonement must be made; outraged law must be satisfied. There will be plenty of time for this misguided boy to further ponder over the error of his way.

If he is made of the right sort of stuff, he will be able to face the world with his head up, his eyes clear, his mind determined and his future actions such as are required in the making of a man.

Hundreds, yes thousands of men and women, too late regret that they did not obey their mothers.

OHIO IS WAKING UP

RATHER an ambiguous caption for this editorial comment, but it has reference to a state of affairs that has been developing within the confines of this commonwealth for more than two score of years.

Whereas, in the past, Ohio streams were prolific of fish and a valuable source of food supply for many thousands of persons, the waterways are now almost destitute of the finny tribe. This is the result of pollution of the water by sewage from centers of population and waste from factories.

The people of Ohio are awakening rapidly to the condition of affairs, but unless there is prompt action, the black bass, the gamest fish in Ohio streams, is doomed to extermination. Unless steps are soon taken to preserve this and other species of fish, one of the most valuable sources of food supply will be entirely eliminated.

Polluted streams must be cleared out and made fit places for fish to live in. Hundreds of miles of streams in this state are so badly contaminated by industrial waste that not a single living thing can be found in them. The Ottawa river thru Lima, for instance!

The question has become pertinent: Shall we hand down to future generations fishless streams. Will we wake up before it is too late? There should be no cessation of effort for the restocking of streams, keeping the water pure and enforcing fish laws. The awful spectacle of fish extermination is now an actuality. It is going on day and night.

Ohio has slumbered too long, while the scenic beauty of waterways has been permitted to be destroyed. Only ditches now exist where once majestic rivers were wont to flow and which provided an abiding place for denizens that aided in providing food for mankind. These places can be restored. They must be!

DANGERS OF BEING CAREFUL

The world observes a corresponding trend to be divided into disease germ fanatics and those who discount germs. As it possible, for instance, to contract disease from a door knob or a hotel bath tub?

How long would germ life endure on such objects? What would you say of the aseptic technique of a dentist who personally answers the telephone and resumes work on the patient in the chair without washing his hands? Does he subject the patient to any risks? And is it unduly squeamish to hesitate to take home or read books, such as public library books, which have been handled or read by all sorts of persons?

The dentist who fails to wash his hands thoroughly after having handled a telephone instrument or any other object which has not been sterilized for the occasion, subjects his patient to an unnecessary risk. A dentist operating on a patient ought to follow the same rigid aseptic (not antiseptic) technique which the surgeon follows in order to prevent septicemia (infection, acute blood poisoning). Aseptic means free from poison, germ free, absolute cleanliness; antiseptic implies reliance upon chemicals to destroy germs or prevent their multiplication. Antiseptic technique is comparable with that kind of housekeeping which stacks the dishes and brushes the dust under the whatnot or behind the day bed until a "cleanup," such as spring housecleaning, becomes imperative. Aseptic technique is like housekeeping which keeps the house clean.

No one need worry about catching any horrible disease thru the ordinary contact of the hands with doorknobs, public library books, paper or metal currency and other objects which must be handled more or less commonly. If any disease germs ever do lodge on such surfaces they die in a few moments, or lose their virulence or capacity to do harm. Casual contact of the hands or the body with another person is a very different condition, and does unquestionably afford opportunity for infection with various diseases, such as scabies, pediculosis, ordinary septicemia (acute blood poisoning, pus germ infection), and sometimes syphilis. Personal contact, as in crowded places, or by shaking hands, involves the transfer or exchange of invisible filth on the hands, (if saliva were indigo this would be apparent to everybody.) such filth may and sometimes does harbor germs capable of causing such diseases as typhoid fever, infectious diarrhea and the intestinal parasitic infestations. Therefore it is good sense and good hygiene to wash the hands with soap and water immediately after such contact when possible, and always before eating. The visible dirt is really less dangerous than invisible filth; persons whose cleanliness is on the surface are prone to skip this washing if their hands do not look dirty. Hand washing is a health habit which is shockingly neglected. From the health viewpoint it is infinitely more important than body washing.

A hotel bath tub or any other is certainly uninviting to one with an aseptic conscience, tho I do not believe any disease is contracted by the use of the common bath tub, provided the adventure includes soaping; for soap is a good reliable disinfectant.

Mophomores Sleep
How long should a child sleep? About what time would you recommend going to bed if you have to arise at 7 in the a. m.?
Answer—Ten hours in winter, nine in summer, for clearest brains, eyes and complexion.

Tuberculosis of Hip
A year ago he jumped from a high porch, and in the last six months he has developed tuberculosis of the hip joint. Did the jump have anything to do with it? Will serum injections cure him—Miss J. G.

Answer—An injury may precipitate bone or joint tuberculosis in a child who has a susceptibility to the disease. You do not say that the child sustained an injury from the jump. Tuberculin injections are helpful, in the judgment of some physicians. Some form of suitable support, to keep the joint at rest, is important. The same open air treatment, with sunbaths if possible, now successfully used for various forms of tuberculosis, is advisable for tuberculosis of the hip.

Dilated Venues
Recently my dilated capillaries in skin of face—Miss J. J.
Answer—You probably mean dilated venues—the little veins (capillaries) are invisible to the eye. Microscopic vessels, skilful treatment with electrolysis by ph. sician or surgeon, will obliterate dilated venues.

WEAR YOUR RUBBERS

A young man sat in a theatre,
To watch the actors play,
But he coughed so loud that the other folks
Couldn't hear what the actors did say.
The usher did come down to him
And said, "You'll have to leave."
And as the young man left the place
These words he seemed to sneeze.

Chorus
"Always wear your rubbers,"
That's what my mother said
But I would never listen
And now my nose is red,
I wish that I had hearkened
To what my mother told,
"Always wear your rubbers,
And you will not catch cold."

A young man met a maiden,
Whose pumps were made of suede
Her stockings, rolled below the knee,
Of silk were thinly made;
He said to her, "Oh, little girl,
You'll get a cold in your head,
I'll marry you and teach you what
My dear old mother said."

Chorus
"Always wear your rubbers,"
My mother said, and she
Most surely said a mouthful
In those kind words to me.
Oh, darling, hear the warning
My mother wisely told,
"Always wear your rubbers
And you will not catch cold!"

LIMA AIDS DRIVE FOR BOY SCOUTS

Half Million Members is Goal Set in Special Effort

PLANS OUTLINED FOR WEEK

Civic Bodies Approve Program of Lima Scout Head

Lima is doing its part in the movement for the attainment of the goal of 1,000,000 Boy Scouts in America, according to announcement by H. E. Simonton, president of the Lima Council of Boy Scouts of America. Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis and other organizations have pledged their support to the local movement.

This city has at the present time 12 troops, with approximately 300 members. The total is being increased gradually, despite the fact that the council does not have the advantage of a scout executive on the job constantly to push the work along.

Charter for the Lima council for 1923 has been received, Simonton states, and the local organization is just as much alive as at any time in the past. A complete reorganization of the council of 21 members is expected to be accomplished during the next 30 days, Simonton declared Thursday and new activity will be seen.

CAMPAIGN PLANNED

Picture show slides and other means of aiding in the scout drive have been received for use here. Simonton plans a speaking campaign also, February 8 to 15. Celebration of the fourteenth birthday of the organization this week was featured by the addition of 100,000 members in America.

This is the culmination of an intensive "anniversary round-up," which started last November and had the object of raising the membership of this famous boys' organization to the half-million mark. Thirteen years ago, the Boy Scouts of America was merely an idea in the minds of men who are still its guiding spirits. It followed the formation of a similar organization in England, in 1908, by Sir Robert S. S. Baden-Powell.

In the United States at this time there were two boys' organizations. One, founded by Ernest Thompson Seton, was called Woodcraft Indians. The other, called the Sons of Daniel Boone, was led by Dan C. Beard.

These two organizations were combined and, February 8, 1910, were reorganized as the Boy Scouts of America. Since then, the Boy Scouts have had some 2,000,000 boys in its membership, and at the beginning of this year had a standing membership of 400,001. This week, the leaders of the movement hope to count half a million boy scouts.

SCOUT LEADERS

At the head of the organization today are men like Colin H. Livingston of Washington, D. C., the national president of the organization; George D. Pratt of New York, treasurer; Clarence H. Howard of St. Louis, and Walter W. Head of Omaha, vice president of the National Bankers Association.

Altho it is 13 years old, the Boy Scout movement is still in its infancy, say its officials. They point to the fact that there are some 3,000,000 boys of scouting age in this country and only half a million in the movement.

The aim of the Boy Scout movement is generally to supplement the various existing educational organizations and to teach boys to do things for themselves and for others.

Every boy, to become a scout, takes an oath in which he pledges himself to do his duty to God and country, to help other people at all times and to keep himself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight. His motto is "Be Prepared," and his slogan, "Do a Good Turn Daily."

Practically all religious bodies have endorsed this movement in connection with their own work with boys. Schools recognize it as an aid to education and prominent men throughout the country have shown a deep interest in its affairs.

PRESIDENTS AS MEMBERS
Four presidents are on the list of honorary members—Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson and Harding. More than 50 governors have taken the scout oath as honorary "tenderfoot" scouts.

Leading the boys, with no money compensation for themselves, are nearly 120,000 business and professional men, who are acting as scoutmasters, troop committeemen and members of local councils.

An enlarged program for the Lima Boy Scouts is promised under the plan of reorganization being worked out among members of the Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis clubs and the Elks Lodge.

This announcement was made by H. E. Simonton, who is fathering the movement to increase the scope and activities of local troops.

Budget has been worked out for the scout year to run from February to February and the amount of money needed for the next 12 months has been set at $5,000.

PLANS ENDORSED

Under the new plan, which has received the endorsement of the three luncheon clubs, five members of each club and the Elks lodge will be selected to serve on the Lima executive council of the Boy Scouts.

And these 20 men will select 10 more men to be members of the council. Besides heading the drive to raise the year's budget, these men will be in charge of all scouting activities.

Under the plan being worked out, a scout executive will be employed, who will devote his entire time to the work among the boys. The former scout executive was released, September 1, because of lack of funds to carry on the work. A deficit of $3,000, existing September 1, has been wiped out and the organization will start with a clean slate.

Two items of the year's activities, mentioned by Simonton, include the summer camp at Lake St. Marys and the observance of courts of honor and wards, when first-class scouts, who have earned merit badges, will be given opportunities to show their skill and to receive the badges.

About 46 scouts dropped out of the movement since the loss of the scout executive. It is expected that these boys will again take up their membership and that several new troops will be formed shortly.

Loosen Up That Cold With Musterole

Have Musterole handy when a cold starts. It has all the advantages of grandmother's mustard plaster WITHOUT the blister. You just apply it with the fingers. First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then comes a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Made of pure oil of mustard and other simple ingredients, Musterole is recommended by many nurses and doctors. Try Musterole for bronchitis, sore throat, stiff neck, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, croup, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back or joints, sore muscles, sprains, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest. It may prevent pneumonia and "flu." 35c and 65c, jars and tubes.

Better than a mustard plaster

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting the genuine Bayer product prescribed by physicians over twenty-two years and proved safe by millions for colds, headache, toothache, neuralgia, lumbago, rheumatism, neuritis, and for pain in general. Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proper directions. Handy boxes of twelve tablets cost few cents. Druggists also sell bottles of 24 and 100. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocetate of Salicylic acid.—Adv.

The Pneumonia Curve

How To Conquer It

To the right is a graphic record of the human toll exacted from March, 1921 to April, 1922, by that grim reaper—Dreaded Pneumonia.

Study the picture. Note that February and March are the danger months when the peril from pneumonia is six times greater than in mid-summer. Note how the poor human body almost in sight of Spring and victory falls to the rigors of February and March.

You cannot expect the healthiest person to fight through the harshness of one of our winters without help. System poisons accumulate alarmingly in the winter, constipation is prevalent and the germs that cause colds and pneumonia find easy access to the defenseless and weakened system.

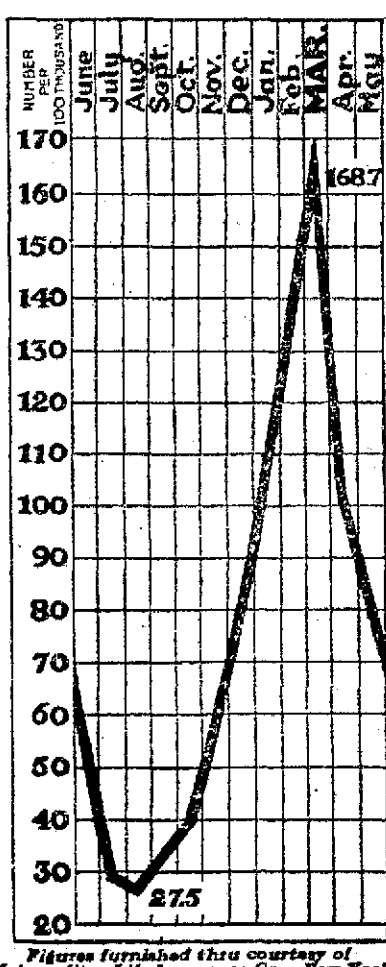

A system well fortified against these germs need not fear the March cold or pneumonia. A hot cup of Bulgarian Herb Tea taken every other night through February and March will aid Nature to eliminate the waste poisons, freshen and improve your blood, stimulate and strengthen your physical resistance and give your system the necessary support to overcome the dangerous rise of the pneumonia curve and help to bring you healthy and vigorous through the dangerous winter.

Buy a box of Bulgarian Herb Tea today from your druggist and start this protection before it is too late.

Remember—Prevention leaves no regret.

My Dear Professor Marshman:

I need not tell you how cordially I wish you and your associates a most eminent success in carrying out your ambitious program for the further development and expansion of Ohio Wesleyan University.

Coming from a neighboring city as I do, I feel almost a personal interest in the growing fortunes and influence of Ohio Wesleyan. It has always been an Ohio institution in which those of us in neighboring counties felt a very special pride, and I know something of the splendid contribution which the University has made to men eminent in the professional, religious and political life of the republic.

Fortunately located, with a splendid record already made, I can well believe that the friends of Ohio Wesleyan will take exceptional interest in making an outstanding success of the large program which you have in mind. Please be assured of my more than cordial good wishes. Very truly yours,

Prof. John T. Marshman,

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:
What is the meaning of the name Ruth?
Should a girl keep company with other boys?
BROWN EYES

THE proper name, Ruth, means "Beauty."
If a girl's fiancé is out of the city, working or for other reasons and knows of her going with other men, I think it would be all right. However, don't have "sneak" dates, that is, without your fiancé's knowledge of it, because then it would seem to me that you do not love him enough to become engaged.

Dear Miss Smart:
I am coming to you for a little advice. (1) Would it be proper for a girl of 13 years to ask her fiancé to go for a picture? I like her very much. (2) Please tell me the meaning of the following names: (a) Elsie, (b) Velma, (c) Anna, (d) La Bete. I am writing for a girl 13 years old.
L. T. S.

Yes, I think it would be proper for you to ask your English instructor for her picture. If you care for her, be courteous and polite to her, and she will think a great deal of you for it.

I am sorry but I am unable to find the meanings of most of the names about which you ask. They are rather unusual. However, Ann, Anne, or Anna means "grace." When I am able to find the meaning of the other names you ask for, I will publish them thru this column.

Your writing is very good for a girl your age.

Dear Miss Smart:
I am a girl 20 years old. My father does not allow my sister and I to use powder. He says it is not healthy. Do you think it is fair for him to demand this?

It would be rather unreasonable for your father to forbid you to use powder at all. But perhaps what he really objects to is the way you use it. Possibly you and your sister have sometimes used so much powder that it made you conspicuous, and that is neither attractive nor in good taste. Surely if you use it with extreme moderation, your father will not continue his objections.

Dear Miss Smart:
We are two girls of Leadeck, and are eighteen years old. Are we too young to have boy friends? The boys in school are giving us good-night kisses and we do not know whether to allow them or not. Do you think it harmful for us to go with boys five years our senior?
BLUE EYES AND BROWN EYES

No, I do not think you are too young to have boy friends, altho I do think you too young to go with boys, really men, five years your senior. Surely there are boys more your own age for you to go about with. No, you should not allow the boys to kiss you good-night. It is improper, unless you are engaged.

SOMETIMES it happens that persons who are on bad terms with one another meet socially at a mutual acquaintance's house. It goes almost without saying that they are bound by every rule of good manners to permit no sign of ill-feeling between them to appear in their behavior. They needn't "gush" but they will make at least a pretense of ordinarily civil relationship.

Plans were made at the meeting of the Mercy Circle of King's Daughters for a bridge affair to be given in the near future. Mrs. Nelson Shook, S. Pierce-st., was hostess to the circle at her home Wednesday with Mrs. C. E. Schell, Mrs. Peter M. Hulseken, Mrs. Harry Wright and Mrs. T. R. Terwilliger as assistant hostesses.

The morning was devoted to the folding of banners for the Red Cross and following the 1 o'clock luncheon a short business session was held. Mrs. B. A. Gramm, treasurer of the organization gave the annual report of the philanthropic work just finished. Mrs. Clinton Sealts reported that $128.70 had been realized from the bridge recently given by the circle at the Elks' home.

By MARIAN MALE
No woman is going to need urging to do her spring shopping early this year.

What she will need, however, is a sense of restraint, exercised possibly by parent or husband, if she never has developed that quality in herself.

Gowns for spring and summer are so comfortable looking, so gay and comparatively so simple and inexpensive that one is completely taken out guard.

In gowns the style leader of the moment seems to be the printed or bordered frock. You can't get away from it. Designs may be delicate and artistic or huge and crude—the sort of thing that suggests the immature work of a child.

There was a good attendance at the Missionary meeting of the M. E. church, Delphos, Wednesday afternoon at the parsonage. A splendid program was given by the members.

Hostesses were Mrs. W. A. Deaton and Mrs. Charles Long. They were assisted by Mrs. J. Wolfe and Mrs. David Thernell. A two course lunch was served by the hostesses.

Next meeting will be in one month.

Mrs. Claud Alexander was hostess to the J. T. club at her home, S. Franklin-st., Delphos, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Earl McCabe, W. Fifth-st., Delphos, will entertain the 1917 club Thursday afternoon.

Thursday evening the Charly Workers club will meet with Mrs. George Lim, N. Breckin-st., Delphos.

KEEP TANLAC IN HOME

Never Fails to Give Relief, Says Mrs. E. Smith

"We are all enthusiastic over Tanlac at our house and just wouldn't be without it," recently, said Mrs. E. Smith, of 625 Erie St., Youngstown, Ohio.

"We have used Tanlac in the family for several years, and in every instance the results are always the same.

"For stomach trouble, I don't believe anything in the world equals the medicine, and I know whereof I speak, for it relieved me entirely and gave me such a splendid digestion that nothing disagrees with me now.

"Then, too, for a run-down, weakened condition, the treatment gives better results than anything else I have ever seen. Way, the way it increases the appetite, aids the digestion and builds one up in strength and weight is simply astonishing.

"Besides my own family, I have so many friends and neighbors who speak highly of Tanlac until it would seem that our whole neighborhood is praising it. Tanlac is truly a medicine for all the family."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold. adv

VAL OF PARADISE

—BY VINGIE E. ROE—

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JOHN HANNON, wealthy ranch owner, his blind wife, BELLE, and their beautiful daughter, VAL, live happily together in Hannon's wonderful ranch home, Paradise. Redstar, the king of the Red Breed of horses, disappears from Paradise.

FATHER HILLIAR, in charge of the mission, introduces Val to his friend, VELANTRIE, from the Border. An interesting friendship springs up between the two girls.

While John Hannon's on a mysterious journey, BOYCE GLENNENIN, calls at Paradise ranch. He is a suitor for Val's hand, favored by her parents but treated with indifference by the girl.

Glennenin offers to head a searching party to try to capture the rustlers who may have stolen Redstar. Val asks to go with them.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

"Oh," he said, "I told him it would be better for his health if he came along quietly."

"Gun-man?" asked Val, laughing. Instantly, Velantrie sobered.

"Not exactly," he said, in his slow soft speech, "tho I might be on occasion."

"Yes," said Val, "I know. I might be, too. My dad is."

"Like him?" asked Velantrie with interest.

"No, one," she answered proudly, "the best and quickest shot in this country. When rustlers drive from this range they leave Paradise alone. That is, until lately."

Velantrie looked at the brown hand on her pom-pom.

"Yes," he said, "I think you ought to be, also. Are you like your dad?"

"Chip on the old block. Look like him, think like him, act like him."

"Then he's a mighty quick man, decided and strong," said Velantrie, admiringly.

"You're dead right he is," said Val, warmly, "John Hannon's the best and biggest man, all ways, in these parts."

"Like him a lot, I take it?" and the speaker smiled while his blue eyes searched her features.

"I sure do, and so does Belle. That's my mother," she explained, "and they're all bound up in each other."

Never in her life before had she told a stranger, or any one else, so much about the sheltered life at Paradise.

A little silence fell between them and the girl looked off across the taches to the south, while the man looked at her.

"Then they tell of talking of the cattle country and the long dry well, and Val told him that the springs were holding out pretty well, and that her father hoped to drive back and get the best from the stock he could. And the sun went swiftly down the heavens and the purple veils began to weave their magic on the stretches, while they sat beside the Little Antelope and forgot that time was, after the manner of youth since the world began."

"My gracious!" said Val at last, startled, "it's getting late! I'll have to run for it now!"

"Looks like you could do it on this horse," said Velantrie, admiringly, "I wish I had my own mount here. I'd like you to see The Comet."

"What's he like?"

"I couldn't describe him. You'd have to see him to know," said Val, quickly, "but I said that rustlers never struck at Paradise—until lately. They took the greatest horse that ever ran those plains a short time back and I'd kill the man who did it like I would a snake!"

"Rustlers?"

"Yes—they say the Black Rustler himself has been seen in Santa Fe, and this summer, and I make no doubt it was he who killed Redstar."

"Redstar?" mused Velantrie, "You call him Redstar?"

"Yes."

"And mine's The Comet. That's a coincidence, isn't it? Both meaning light—the heavens—a star."

"Why, so they do," cried Val, "and from our own words they are."

both great horses. "What color is this Comet?"

"Deep blood bay."

"With a smoky black cloud across his shoulders, and gim black dapples shining thru?"

The smile faded slowly from the man's face.

"A perfect description," he said.

"Valantrie caught the honest hand in a snapp that would have hurt a tender woman, but Val Hannon returned it closely."

For a tense moment they sat so, looking deep into each other's eyes.

"It is wrong," said the man at last, "I have no right to be friends with a girl like you. Not that my heart is wrong toward women—that, at least, I can deny with honesty—but I am black with other sins, Miss Hannon—sins among men."

Val's look did not change.

"So are lots of men I know," she said simply. "This country is full of such. But a man's heart can be made over."

"Lord! Lord!" said Velantrie, "I see the padre's life-work."

"You, like the good priest, would raise the sinner on your very heart! But in my case it cannot be. There is a reason why Velantrie—some time of the Border—cannot change. Don't trouble about me. I am well and at peace with myself."

Gently he laid down the hand he had held so tightly clasped in his.

"But I thank my stars, Miss Hannon, for that night at Hannon's well. I told you then I could not forget. There are some things that are part and parcel of one's life upon an instant. That moment there was one. If I go I shall not forget."

"But you won't go," said Val, "not to stay. You will come back—sometimes—to the padre's garden?"

Dearest, honest, simple as a child she leaned forward and searched his features—and the man's heart leaped, throbbed at his temples, set a sudden tremble in his lips. His blue eyes grew soft and luminous as summer lights in windows.

Val jenned nearer yet, her hand reaching out unconsciously.

"You will come—sometimes?"

"Sometimes—to the padre's garden. There can be no wrong in looking at your face in the shadow of the Mission walls! Yes—I will come back."

And with a quick and graceful motion, as if without volition, he bent low from his saddle and kissed that reaching hand.

Then he turned his horse and was gone toward the south—

Val Hannon ran Redcloud all the way to Paradise, while the purple veils draped all the spaces of the open country and the mesas stood like ancient ghosts.

The Cry in the Blind Trail Hills

Imagining the world of the range-land at the east the Blind Trail Hills rose stark into the heavens, their western face a band of rugged cliffs that shut them in completely.

Far back and to the left, lost in a maze of gulches, peaks and canyons, there lay a tiny valley, fair as the fields of Paradise.

It looked like a bit of Eden set down in this prosaic world, innocent of men. But man had found it.

"You, like the good priest, would raise the sinner on your very heart! But in my case it cannot be. There is a reason why Velantrie—some time of the Border—cannot change. Don't trouble about me. I am well and at peace with myself."

Gently he laid down the hand he had held so tightly clasped in his.

"But I thank my stars, Miss Hannon, for that night at Hannon's well. I told you then I could not forget. There are some things that are part and parcel of one's life upon an instant. That moment there was one. If I go I shall not forget."

"But you won't go," said Val, "not to stay. You will come back—sometimes—to the padre's garden?"

Dearest, honest, simple as a child she leaned forward and searched his features—and the man's heart leaped, throbbed at his temples, set a sudden tremble in his lips. His blue eyes grew soft and luminous as summer lights in windows.

Val jenned nearer yet, her hand reaching out unconsciously.

"You will come—sometimes?"

"Sometimes—to the padre's garden. There can be no wrong in looking at your face in the shadow of the Mission walls! Yes—I will come back."

And with a quick and graceful motion, as if without volition, he bent low from his saddle and kissed that reaching hand.

Then he turned his horse and was gone toward the south—

Val Hannon ran Redcloud all the way to Paradise, while the purple veils draped all the spaces of the open country and the mesas stood like ancient ghosts.

CHAPTER XII

The Cry in the Blind Trail Hills

Imagining the world of the range-land at the east the Blind Trail Hills rose stark into the heavens, their western face a band of rugged cliffs that shut them in completely.

Far back and to the left, lost in a maze of gulches, peaks and canyons, there lay a tiny valley, fair as the fields of Paradise.

It looked like a bit of Eden set down in this prosaic world, innocent of men. But man had found it.

it out and left his mark—the solid gate of five slim saplings set square across the mouth, their ends let into the living rock itself where fitted slots had been cut with some sharp instrument. Those saplings were strong, straight, and trimmed. A neat and photo hand had done the job. They rose in the pass to a height of some six feet and closed the glade completely.

And what was this? A ragged fringe of gnawed and shining fibre clothing the two top ones from end to end as with a garment!

And what was that running the green floor on all sides? A narrow trampled path worn to the dusty earth beneath the grass by running feet that circled tirelessly the binding walls in an endless search for freedom!

And what wondrous thing stood yonder, picked boldly out in the green floor as the long red veils of the early twilight came waving down the rocks?

How He Cured His Rupture

Old Sea Captain Cured His Own Rupture After Doctors Said "Operate or Death."

His Remedy and Book Sent Free.

Captain Collings sailed the seas for many years, then he sustained a bad double rupture that soon forced him to not only remain ashore, but kept him bedridden for years. He tried doctor after doctor and tried after tried. No results! Finally, he was assured that he must either submit to a dangerous and abortive operation or die. He did neither! He cured himself instead.

Captain Collings made a study of himself, of his conditions—and at last he was rewarded by the finding of a method that so quickly made him a well, strong, vigorous and happy man.

Anyone can use the same method. It's simple and "no-nonsense." Every ruptured person in the world should have the Captain Collings book telling all about how he cured himself, and how anyone may follow the same treatment in their own home without any trouble or cost. The book will be sent prepaid to any ruptured sufferer who will fill out the below coupon. But send it right away—before you put down this paper—Atv.

CENTRAL TO PLAY SPRINGFIELD AND STIVERS FIVES

ST. ROSE AWAY

Lima's three major basketball teams will finish training tonight for some of the biggest games of the season. All have been traveling at a fast pace and will meet the big test this week.

St. Rose will be materially weakened by the loss of O'Connor. The center was declared ineligible yesterday because of scholastic difficulties. It is probable that Burns will take his place at the pivot position. Outside of this St. Rose is in the best of shape and ready to go. At the last minute, Morton cancelled their game making it impossible for St. Rose to play their Saturday night game. Illness is the reason for cancelling.

Central meets their real test of the season when they play two games in as many nights with two of the strongest teams in the state. Coach Thibault has been working his players hard and long for the game with Springfield Friday night and the Stivers come to the night following.

South will have an easy time with the St. Mary's team according to reports. The South team has beaten them once this year and are confident of repeating.

Umpire Makes Aerial Rule

Bill Byron, former National League umpire, now working in the Pacific Coast League, is holding it out original.

Byron is known as the most technical man in baseball, not excepting Tommy Connolly of the American League, who is fussy about the minor features of the game.

In baseball, arguments seldom can come up relative to ground rules. There always seems to be a difference of opinion, largely caused because the rival managers seek to gain the edge in agreement on certain rules that will cover situations that may arise with spectators on the field.

In every ball game certain ground rules exist, but to Bill Byron, the credit of formulating the first and only aerial rule that have been adopted into the national pastime.

During a game at the Polo Grounds several years ago, an aviator persisted in flying very low over the playing field. It was a foolhardy stunt that endangered the lives of thousands of spectators.

The actions of the aviator were taken on a very serious aspect when Byron, in dramatic fashion, stopped the game and in all seriousness yelled to McGraw:

"Aerial rules, Johnny. Two bases if the ball hits the machine or is concealed in any part of it."

Then in just as dramatic fashion he resumed the game. It was done in all seriousness, but set players and crowd to laughing, and really made a majority forget the danger that existed.

TRIBE STARTS SOUTH

CLEVELAND — The first squad of major league baseball players to leave for the south for spring training departed from here today for Hot Springs, Ark. It was composed of the veteran batteryman of the Cleveland Indians. In the party were Pitcher Coveleskie and Uhl, Catcher O'Neill and Coach Jack McAllister.

PADDOCK TO GET IN SHAPE

PASADENA, Calif. — Charlie Paddock, the "fastest human" is determined to answer once and for all the critics who have questioned his courage and the officials who have refused to accept his record.

Preparing for an intensive campaign against the best sprinters the country can produce, Paddock is at present taking light workouts and playing a lot of golf to get ready for the regular training grind which will begin when he returns to the University of Southern California within the next few weeks.

Paddock will run again this spring in Pacific coast meets and will go east determined to meet and defeat LeComoy, Woodling, Loreley and Lever, the sprinters some critics said he was afraid to meet. He plans to compete for U. S. C. in the Penn relay.

Many entries in Y TOURNEY

Already a large number of entries have been received for the first annual Y. M. C. A. four shooting tournament which is to be held at the "Y" gym February 14 and 21.

Players on the majority of independent teams in Lima have notified their intention of entering the jousting as have the players on the Central, South and St. Rose cage teams.

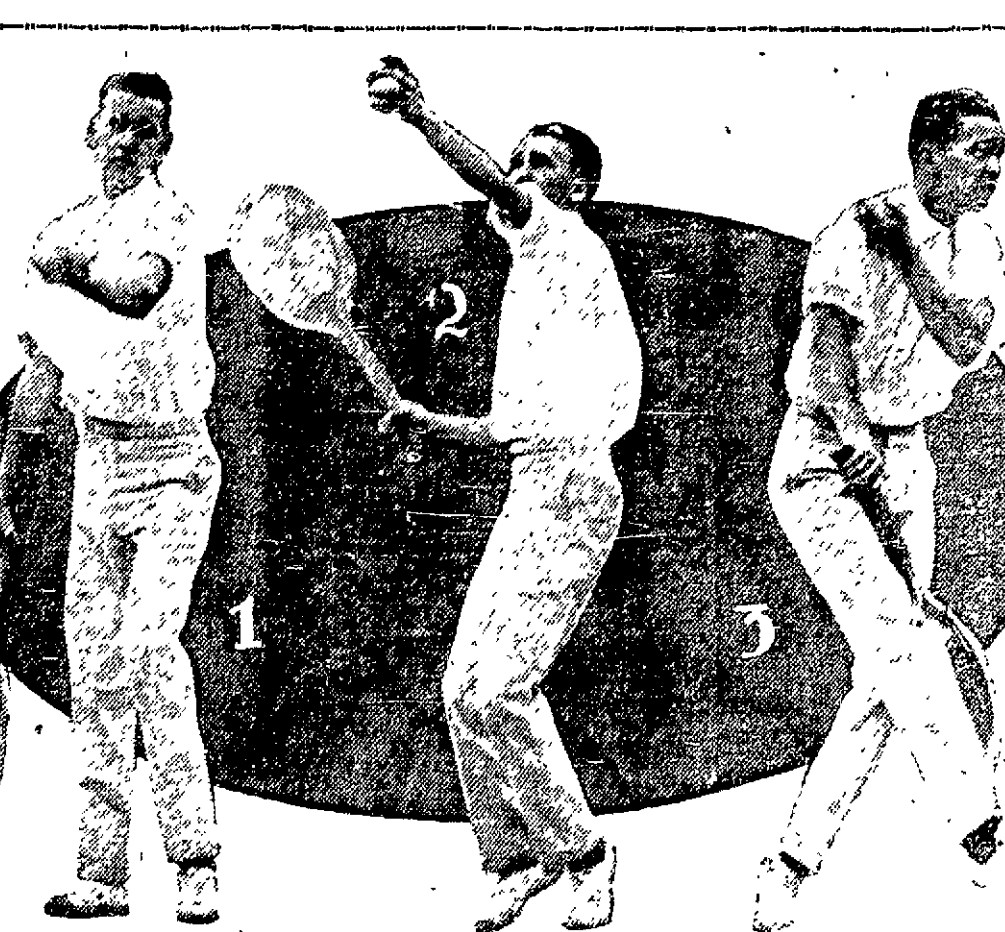

The tournament is to be divided into two sections, one open to boys under 17 years of age, and the other for men and boys over 17. Gold medals will be awarded the winners in each class and altogether the prize list comprises 20 awards.

The first elimination will be run off February 14, and the final trials will be made a week later. On February 21, a cage game will follow the four shooting contest.

According to the rules of the affair, each contest will make 25 throws, after having three practice shots.

Vincent Richards Heir To Tilden's Crown

VINCENT RICHARDS SERVING (1) HE CAREFULLY JUDGES THE DISTANCE AND HIS OPPONENT'S POSITION. (2) ALL THE POWER OF HIS ATHLETIC FRAME IS BEHIND THE SMASH. (3) ANOTHER STEP AND HE'S SET FOR THE RETURN.

(BY BILLY EVANS)
YONKERS, N. Y. — Vincent Richards, 20-year-old protégé of Bill Tilden, looms up as the most probable successor to the crown now held by the great Tilden.

One year ago Tilden said of Richards: "Vincent Richards is one of the most dangerous players in the country. He has the power to his drive combined with remarkable accuracy."

"Richards has absolutely arrived. In another year I expect to see him ranked one, two, three."

When Tilden made such a statement, some of the experts felt that his friendship for Richards actuated the thought. The fact that Richards was ranked third in 1922, only Tilden and Bill Johnston being ahead of him, makes good the prediction of Tilden.

While Hope has long been known as the "Boy Wonder" of Billiards; to Vincent Richards goes that title in tennis.

Richards has for years been regarded as the world's outstanding boy athlete.

At 14 Richards defeated some of the country's best senior players.

At 15, paired with Tilden, they won the national doubles championship.

Richards has been three times the national junior champion, outdoors and indoors; once national senior indoor champion; twice national doubles champion with Tilden, indoors and outdoors; and twice national boy champion.

In 1916 he had the unique distinction of holding at the same time the national boy's title and the senior doubles championship.

Within the space of a year, Richards three times beat Bill Tilden, national champion, in various tournaments.

At different times Richards has beaten every ranking tennis player in the United States. Some feat.

The Richards family is an athletic one. Vincent has two brothers who have won distinction on the track.

Here is the formula of Mrs. Mary Richards, the mother of three athletic stars:

"Feed your sons properly. Teach them how to laugh. Insist they always play fair."

YESSIR, LEAVES COST $7000 IN THIS MOVIE!

THEY told me that the leaves on the trees in the movie production of "Little Old New York" cost $7,000. That's a pretty good yarn, I thought, and so I went over to the Brooklyn armory, where scenes of the picture are being filmed. So, writes James W. Dean.

There I saw the largest interior motion picture set ever erected. It was a replica of the Bowling Green of New York City of a century ago. There were dozens of trees and each one was luxuriant in thousands of artificial leaves. I believe they actually cost $7,000.

The movie people in the past have dealt in extravagant claims, but this time film commentators have become a class of Doubting Thomases. After visiting the set of "Little Old New York" I am prepared to state the following facts on my own authority:

Marion Davies has actually cut her hair to boy-length for this picture. She doesn't wear a wig.

Harrison Ford, Mahlon Hamill, Norman Kossow, and J. M. Kerrigan have grown natural sideburns for their roles.

So many people take part in the picture that costumes of the period had to be ordered in three cities: New York, Boston and Philadelphia. In addition, many were made at the studio. They were designed by Mrs. Greil Thurlow, daughter of Joseph Urban, who designed the sets.

"Secrets of Paris" Is Lyric's Attraction

SECRETS of Paris possesses a story that the world has acclaimed as one of the classics of literature, for it is justly reputed to be the most striking and vivid story penned by that master of fiction, Eugene Sue, who is recognized the world over as one of the literary lights of history. The screen version of the story has not suffered one iota in its interpretation. If anything it has enhanced Eugene Sue's theme so that it is one of the most compelling photo-dramas of a decade in which there has been brought forth no end of awe-inspiring photo-dramatization. It possesses a heart-grabbing story of the Parisian underworld and European royalty, with a continuity that will demand attention from the first foot of film to the last.

The story deals with Mayflower, a wife, who has no recollections of her parents, having been raised by the Owl and Hoppy, two underworld characters. Her only friend is Fran-

The task of feeding and caring for this army of actors is as great as that of provisioning a battalion of soldiers.

Sidney Olcott, the director, has three assistant directors helping him.

William Randolph Hearst takes an active hand in the supervision of filming the picture.

NTIL I saw Marion Davies in "The Young Diana" and "When Knighthood Was in Flower," I did not think that her abilities as an actress warranted the vast expenditures on her pictures. Even after those pictures I felt that her improvement was brought about by adroit direction. Seeing her for the first time before the camera in "Little Old New York," I came to the belief that the improvement is hers alone, a natural growth of one ambitious and enthusiastic to succeed in a certain line of endeavor. She played her role in "Little Old New York" with but little coaching from the sidelines. She chose her own line of attack.

The most interesting figure in "Little Old New York" to me is J. M. Kerrigan, I do not remember of having seen him on the screen, but I have been fascinated by his character acting on the stage. The fascination lay in his pantomime. That, it seems to me, is the paramount requisite for successful screen acting.

cois, a wait like herself. The only home the two children knew was the Rat Hole, where murderers, jailbirds and counterfeiters made their headquarters and took orders from their chief, the Schoolmaster, who in former days had led a double life. It was to him that Mayflower had been left by her dying mother.

In a far-away kingdom, a King starts out to find his one time sweetheart and takes residence in Paris. Here many intense situations meet Mayflower, who proves to be the daughter of his former sweetheart. There are many thrilling events before the King and Mayflower are finally united.

It is a strong story enacted by a fine cast consisting of Lew Cody, Gladys Hulette, Montague Love and a host of others. It was adapted to the screen by Dorothy Farnum.

"Secrets of Paris" is appearing at the Lyric theatre today and for the remainder of the week.

Norma Talmadge to Appear in Oriental Photoplay

THAT people are eager for stories of the Orient is evidenced by the great popularity of "The Voice from the Minaret," Norma Talmadge's latest offering (through National), which is to be the feature attraction at the Sigma theatre next week. Eugene O'Brien plays opposite Miss Talmadge in this photoplay, which is based on the novel by John Masefield, and was directed by Frank Lloyd, the creator of "The Eternal Flame," and other big successes. "The Voice from the Minaret" is

New Stars Win Favor in "Free Air"

SCENIC investiture is the outstanding feature of the Quilna's attraction for the remainder of the week. "Free Air" introduces to cinema patrons two new screen stars, including Marjorie Seaman and Tom Douglas and also a new type of picture—something different from the usual run of themes.

Do you believe in love at first sight? You must to enjoy "Free Air." Quite impossible that a young man should fall so deeply in love with a girl upon sight that he would follow her all the way to Glacier Park to be near her in case of danger, don't you think? But, we're glad he did, because there are many exciting incidents that couldn't have happened without him. As proprietor of the Glacier Trail Garage in Montana, our hero sees Miss Seaman and her father on their way from St. Paul to Glacier Park. He is so smitten proof of the rapid strides being made in the cinematographic art. A story replete with dramatic situations that hold the spectator spellbound; settings that breathe the very spirit of the Orient and a cast that is the last word in artistry—these combine to form a perfect photoplay and one that is destined to live in the memory.

Edwin Stevens, Winter Hall, Carl Gerard, Claire Du Bray, Lillian Lawrence and Albert Pisco are in the cast.

Poison Starts to Leave the System
Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every Druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenbur's, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and go away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenbur's has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of Allenbur's, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent more of their money unless Allenbur's effectively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has interested druggists in guaranteeing the above in every instance. Give a Public Drug Store and supply you.—Adv.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Column of Anecdotes About Home Folks

What is the funniest experience that ever happened to you? Write it out briefly and send it to the Short Shavings Editor of The Lima News. For the best contributed Short Shavings published in the week, The News will pay $1. Full names and address must be signed.

P. F. Fitzgerald, 324 S. Woodlawn-av., relates that the teacher of one of the infant classes in the Lima public schools was endeavoring to teach the children how to count.

She had them stand up in a row, the first to number himself one and so on down the line. There were twelve in the row. All went well until the last. The child next to her said "eleven." The teacher prompted.

"Twelve," replied the last child in the row.

Eather D. Heffner, clerk in criminal court, tells that recently during the hearing of a case before Judge Emmet Jackson, Walter Brown was acting as court stenographer and was taking verbatim all questions and answers.

One of the witnesses was an Italian, who talked very rapidly. Brown was writing shorthand as rapidly as possible and was being closely watched by the witness, who talked faster and faster.

Finally, in the midst of an answer, the witness stopped short, turned to Bowman and said, "Don't write so darned fast; I can't keep up with you!"

Mrs. Guy Thompson, Lima R. D. 4, tells that while in Lima, doing some shopping, accompanied by her grandchild, Roma, they noticed a woman leading a dog that had a bobbed tail.

The child looked at the dog and then said, "Grandma, why hasn't the little dog a long tail? Did they make some, but dog out of it?"

Catherine Miller, 417 W. Grand-av., tells that one day in school while her class was engaged in examination questions, one of the queries in the list was "What is the meaning of P. M.?"

"I sat for some time," Catherine says, "trying to recall the meaning of P. M. The only thing I could think of was 'Pie, Mom!'"

Miss Beatrice Hilleary, Celina, submits this one:

"One day a woman called to visit her neighbor. After she had departed, another neighbor came in. The little boy of the house, aged five, heard his mother say that her first visitor was 'two-faced.'"

"The woman thus accused returned the next day. The boy even heard her say so much so that his mother asked: 'Willie what are you looking for?'"

"He answered, 'Why, mamma, you said this woman was two-faced. I'm looking for her other face.'"

Vernon Parrott, Spencerville, tells that his brother, from Cleveland, visited him recently, and related to him the following:

"While I was walking down the street, a newboy approached me and asked that I buy a paper. As I had just purchased a paper, I told him I couldn't read."

"Aw, gee," the boy said, "you can turn it upside down and laugh at the funny pictures!"

Mrs. John Newland, 415 E. Market-av., relates that a young man friend of the family who resides on Pine-st., was at home alone one day and did not know what to cook for dinner.

Finally he decided to prepare some rice. He poured about a pound and a half in a vessel. When it started cooking, he also persisted in running over the side of the utensil. He removed part of it. Still it boiled over. Soon he had all the available dishes filled and the rice continued swelling.

He finally decided to start eating it, but it wasn't done. Then he threw the whole mess out into the back yard. His friends call him "Rice" now, as a nickname.

Ben Sutton, Ohio City, R. D. 2, relates that one day her father told her brothers to go and get some grass for the rabbits.

He said, "If you see you will give them a feast today and a famine tomorrow."

The following day the boys forgot to feed the bunnies. One of the smallest children who had overheard the remark made by the parent, said, "See, dad, it is fish today and salmon tomorrow."

Mrs. F. J. Williams, Delphos, tells that she attended a dinner party with a girl friend one Sunday evening.

After dessert was served, all present were provided with spoons, save one bashful young man. His ice cream was melting, but he did not appear to notice it until someone kicked him on the shins. Then he blurted out, "Path the Poons Please!"

John Whittington, Elida R. D. 2, tells that he was out riding on a cloudy night with a girl friend, when she exclaimed, "Just look at that pretty bright star."

"I explained to her," Whittington says, "that it was the light in a block signal on the railroad. She would not believe it until we were sufficiently near for her to see that she had been in the wrong."

"Oh, well, it looks like a star anyway," she said.

Mrs. L. V. Buchanan, 1022 Brice-av., relates that the subject for discussion at Richardson school one afternoon was Christopher Columbus.

When her small son returned home, Mrs. Beckman asked him what he had studied.

He replied, "The teacher told us about Columbus. I suppose she meant Columbus Grove. I don't know of any other Columbus around here."

Ninety Per Cent of the Afflicted Are Curable—So Says Dr. Frederick Blankner, the Distinguished Chicago Specialist

But the large majority suffer misery, simply for the need of a treatment that is applicable to the condition existing. All chronic diseases result from physiological disorders and those afflicted with complicated chronic diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys, heart, lungs and the nerves suffer as much from the want of proper treatment as from the disease itself. For the past thirty-five years Dr. Blankner has specialized in physiological chronic complicated diseases and the many who have made the Little Journey to Parlor B, Lima House, and who have been accepted for treatment surely are well pleased and on every hand you will hear them speak most highly in terms of praise. Many have come for forty and fifty miles distant and why not you.—Three months ago Mrs. Harbour of Degraft made the journey afflicted with a general break down of all the physical forces, complicated with a bad case of chronic neural catarrh with threatened symptoms of consumption. She took a special treatment and today is in full possession of her health.

Many similar cases could be mentioned and referred to, but what you want to know is—what can be done for you and if you are really interested why would it not be a part of wisdom to make the Little Journey to Parlor B, and meet Dr. Blankner face to face in an honest and conscientious heart to heart talk, until Tues., Feb. 13th.

Regarding the extraction of teeth without pain—Last Sunday Dr. Blankner began to suffer with an ulcerated tooth, when he immediately sat down in an easy chair as you please rocking chair and extracted a lower molar tooth for himself without pain. No chloroform, ether, gas, somniform, or any other narcotic used. No bad results. Mr. H. E. Osborn, R. R. N. Urbana, O., made the journey and had 20 exceedingly difficult teeth extracted without pain. Mrs. A. E. Mowery, No. 223 N. McDonel St., has 23 extracted last November and can tell you all about it. No danger of taking cold. You come until Tues., Feb. 13th to Parlor B, Lima House, and never will you regret it. Office hours, 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. Lima House Phone, No. 4904. No more need be said.
